Jolly Phonics Workbook 2

The Jolly Phonics Workbooks teach progressively, with more to learn in each Workbook. Progress can be assessed on the skills checklist below.

Reading

Recognizes the second group of sounds - c, k, e, h, r, m, d.

2-13

Can blend simple words made up from the sounds learnt so far.

pages 19, 20

Saying the sounds, and making the word is the next stage after recognizing the sounds.

Knows that when you see 'ck' in a word (as in duck), you only say the 'c' sound once.

The child should sound it out as d-u-ck (not d-u-c-k). This also applies to other doubled consonants in words such as bell, rabbit, carrot, and dress.

Writing

Holds pencil correctly.

Ensure the pencil is held between the thumb and first two fingers, as shown.

Can write the second group of sounds - c k, e, h, r, m, d.

pages
3-13, 16

Can hear the end sound of a word.

For example, that red ends with a d sound. End sounds are more difficult to hear than beginning sounds.

Write your name.

2 Ants

Find the 2 ants.

Two is another tricky word you have to learn.

Activity

Egg character.

Stand half of an egg in a pot. Put in some damp cotton wool, or paper. Sprinkle some cress or other small seeds in it. Watch the hair grow.

Edible letters.

Make the mixture for some plain cookies or biscuits. Cut some letters out of a piece of card. Put them on the rolled out mix, and cut round them.

mmmm meal.

Stick pictures of tasty food onto a paper plate.

Name card.

Cut out a piece of card, about 10cm by 20cm (4" x 8"). Write your name on it. Remember to use a capital letter only at the beginning.

Further Guidance

Pages 2-13. Sounds.

Remember to introduce each letter by its sound, not its name. So the letters h, e and m need to be introduced as huh, not aitch, eh not ee, and mmm, not em. The actions are designed to help the child learn the sound. Children enjoy the actions, even though the adult may be a little self conscious. The capital letter is introduced with each letter. At this stage capitals should be used only at the beginning of names.

Pages 2, 3. The Letter k.

The letter k is introduced in a looped form (so k not k) to make it easier for the child to write the letter in one movement.

Practice is needed for all the sounds learned so far. Further help can be given by writing each letter on a piece of card and holding cards up one at a time - saying the sound and doing the action. Once the sounds are known the actions are no longer needed. With a second set of cards the games of pairs, or snap, can be played.

It is important to go the right way round when writing c. The c shape is the template that begins the letters a, d, o, g, q. Note that the letter d starts in the middle (not at the top).

Pages 16, 22. Hearing Sounds in Words.

Good spellers are able to hear all the sounds in a word. This ability develops gradually, and may need plenty of practice. In this Workbook children are encouraged to listen for the first and last sounds in words.

Pages 17, 18. Red Hen Book.

These pages can be removed, cut in half, and folded to form a small book. The words in the story contain letters from the first two groups only.

Being able to hear rhymes helps reading and writing.

The Jolly Phonics Workbooks teach the skills for reading and writing

All the letter sounds of English are introduced (not just the alphabet), with an 'action' for each. Exercises show how to use the letter sounds to read and to spell, along with ways of learning the 'tricky' spellings. The correct way to form each letter is shown and in later Workbooks joined-up (cursive) writing is introduced.
